Dedication

This record in words and pictures is dedicated to Lyman Huntington. Without the dapper head of the Rollins Photographic Department there would be no TOMOKAN worthy of your interest.

This little man with the ever-present camera, quiet manner and bright bow tie hasn't restricted his efforts to the TOMOKAN. Every campus publication owes a debt to Lyman Huntington.

And so do many students and alumni.

Graduates of the "Huntington School of Art"—photography is a fine art to Lyman—have gone on to jobs with national publications. Others are still learning their art with an eye to the future. Still more are being taught a hobby they will always enjoy.

Lyman's studios have expanded from a dismal hole in the wall in Carnegie Hall to the present office and darkrooms in the Student Center.

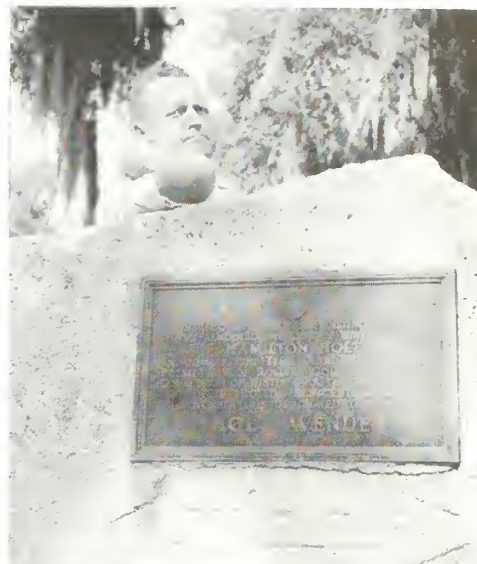

As the campus became aware of the opportunities, Lyman's work load jumped. Last year he began classes in photography.

Despite long experience Lyman has the trademark of a true artist—he is still learning the business. And Rollins students are learning right along with him.

But this easy-going cameraman—who holds a pilot's license and repairs television sets as a sideline—means more to Rollins students than just another instructor.

He is "father confessor" to publications. He is a willing listener and clearing house for campus gripes and campus jokes. He leans back and smiles as students pour out their triumphs and their failures.

To those who know him Lyman is even more. He is just "a wonderful guy."

MRS. DELLA GATTIS, utilizing the dictaphone in typing a letter, is oblivious to the serious conference taking place between Dr. Wendell C. Stone and Mrs. Royal Howard, secretary to the President.

BEFORE LEAVING on a speaking tour, Dean of Rollins College, Sidney J. French, explains additional details to his secretary, Mrs. Thomas Gavin, who records them on the faculty information sheets.

Trustees Plan

The future of Rollins College lies in the hands of the Board of Trustees of the College. Meeting as many times yearly as is deemed necessary, the trustees plan the administrative procedure and work towards the most successful future possible for Rollins. Among the actions taken by the Board this year are the raising of tuition and the announcement of definite plans to build a new women's dormitory and a new Beanery as part of the plan to expand the number of students to eight hundred. This will create a need for more buildings and thus, over the summer, Kirby-Smith and Abbott houses were acquired as men's and women's dormitories respectively. Recently the Board accepted a Winter Park home willed to them by a former Rollins educator, Dr. John Martin.

MRS. HUGH F. McKEAN and Mr. Olcott Deming pause before returning to the business of the college.

VICE PRESIDENT and Treasurer of Rollins Mr. John M. Tiedtke with Mr. A. G. Bush and Miss Helen Knox who are members of the Board of Trustees relax and enjoy a short intermission in President McKean's office between busy sessions of the meeting of the board.

GOING OVER a revised list of students and their dormitory assignments are Dean of Men Joe Justice and Dean of Women Jean Day aided by Miss Ruth Fairchild, secretary to the Student Deans.

MAKING THE FINAL financial arrangements for Founders' Week and the Rollins Animated Magazine are Mr. Jahn Tiedtke, Vice-President and Treasurer of the College, and his secretary, Mrs. Daniel Corr.

INTERRUPTING dictation to Miss Mildred Johnson, Mr. Fred Word, assistant Treasurer of the College, checks a ledger sheet brought to him by Mrs. M. William Crossley an assistant in the office.

MISS CHLOE M. LYLE, cashier of the college, records a check cashed for a student by her assistant, Miss Leona Lyle, as Mrs. Eva Mason types up the permanent financial statements for the college.

MRS. NELL GRIER, secretary to Mr. Don Vincent, head of the college news bureau, waits for his final approval on various publicity releases to be given to the Orlando and Winter Park newspapers.

MISS JANET CORLISS and Mrs. Elaine Kemp revise a schedule with Miss Dorothy Koehler, Registrar of the College, while Mrs. Ann Sharma calls the Dean's office for additional information on a student.

FIGURING MILEAGE for the Admissions Office is Mrs. Elma R. Gray Jr., Counselor Maicom F. Scott and Director Jack Rich discuss future routings while their secretary, Mrs. Kothryn L. Goodwin, looks on. Not pictured: Mr. Charles B. Farrar and Mrs. Sylvia Tarabochia.

MR. HAROLD MUTISPAUGH, purchasing agent for the college, compares prices on a requisition slip from the physics department for new scientific equipment with those in a recent catalog.

DR. GEORGE SAUTE, Director of Community Courses, examines a poster which lists subjects that will be offered by the college. Miss Cynthia Eastwood, Secretary to the Administration, holds the poster for his approval.

THE AIR-CONDITIONED Mills Memorial Library contains over 92,000 books and is the starting place for many term papers.

BEHIND THE WALLS of the Pink Palace, the administrative operations are planned.

IN ADDITION to the regular staff of the library is Dr. Frederick Lewton, Archivist of the College. With him is Mrs. Dorothy Shepherd Smith, secretary to Miss Della F. Northey, Editor of the Union Catalog of Florida, who is cataloging books on the State of Florida.

AND MISS ARNOLD SELECT AND CATALOG BOOKS RECEIVED.

THE CENTER STAFF, Mrs. Connie Wright, Mrs. Hozel Bulla, and Mrs. Edythe Dovidsan operate the Student Center under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Gregg.

MR. AND MRS. MAYS, seated, plan the future operation of the "natariaus" Beonery with Mrs. Stewart.

SUPERINTENDENT OF Buildings and Grounds George C. Cartwright indicates a suitable site for the new Beonery to his wife and son George H. Cartwright.

BOOKSTORE MANAGER Mrs. Clarisse Yarborough and assistant Mrs. Jacobson arrange a window display.

POSTMAN SANDY Caldwell and assistant Mrs. Lucy Crane begin another busy day at the post office.

THE INFIRMARY STAFF, Miss Nicholas, Dr. Walter Johnston, and Miss Plummer discuss pills and ills.

MRS. EMILY R. MERRILL, secretary, discusses student employment opportunities with Melvin Greenhut, director of the Placement Bureau.

The student Placement Bureau is probably one of the most popular and well-populated offices in Carnegie Hall. For it is here that an attempt is made to fit the student with the vocation of his choice. Under the direction of Melvin Greenhut, students apply for and are granted employment with firms both in Winter Park and throughout the United States. Perhaps the busiest time of the year occurs right before the graduation rush when senior students keep Greenhut and his staff really busy as they seek job opportunities toward their beginning in the modern business world.

Alumni Return to Scenes

ON THE SATURDAY OF FOUNDERS' WEEK, ALUMNI AND FACULTY ATTEND THE ALUMNI'S ANNUAL LUNCHEON IN THE STUDENT CENTER.

GUIDING THE Rollins Alumni Incorporated is the Executive Board consisting of Jann Fluno, president, Nita Mutispaugh, secretary; Alice Egan, first vice-president; Thirza Bisson, treasurer, and Bill Brant, second vice-president.

of Former Years

The Rollins Alumni Incorporation founded in 1898 by Miss Clara Louise Guild, the first graduate of Rollins, received its charter from the State of Florida in 1953. Meeting in the Alumni House, the Incorporation sponsors annual fund-raising drives. Last year over 32,000 dollars was collected for college use. Other Alumni activities are the quarterly publishing of "The Rollins Alumni Recorder," holding an Alumni Day Luncheon during Founders' Week, and presenting the annual Sunrise Breakfast for the seniors on graduation day. This group of graduates, still sincerely interested in the school, is a great asset in the future of Rollins College.

REVISING RECORDS of Rollins Alumni Incorporated is the constant task of Mrs. Claire Kent, secretary, and Mr. Ray Kirk, director of the Alumni.

Freshmen Survive Orientation Week

DR. U. T. BRADLEY ADDRESSES ENTERING STUDENTS.

Upon their arrival entering students were greeted by the Welcoming Committee headed by Dr. U. T. Bradley. Hardley settled in their dorms, students were immediately encompassed with the turmoil of meetings, various student activities and registration. As the week progressed, the groups of freshman attended meetings designed to acquaint them with the curriculum at Rollins. The various social affairs including the annual Chapel Staff get-together and the traditional picnic supper given by President McKean helped to alleviate the initial strain of the first week. Registration and the arrival of returning students climaxed a most hectic period for everyone concerned. This week of orientation served as a stepping stone for the new students into rigorous college activity.

From Student Leaders to Who's Who

CHARLES WEISMAN

Every student of the college is a member of the Student Association. The government of the association is vested in the Rollins Student Council which meets weekly and works for the best interests of the students, both in the management of student activities and the promotion of law and order in the college. This year Denny Folken presided over the Council which consists of one representative from each social group and four independent representatives.

Six outstanding Rollins seniors were nominated to appear in the 1956 edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Those selected on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, service, and future promise are Chuck Weisman, Mary Enck, Shirley Miller, Denny Folken, Sue Dunn and Alison Dessau.

Unforgettable Moments in the ART

Six little moments, candidates for memory, but chosen on the theory that although titles and plots are elusive, the laugh, the blow to the emotions, the sudden gesture, the turntable line, all last.

MARY ENCK IN DIAL M FOR MURDER ANSWERS THE TELEPHONE.

The horrifying moment when the unsuspecting Margo picks up a direct line to almost certain death.

BETTY BROOK, JEANNE NEWTON AND SHARON VOSS VIE FOR THE PRIZE, THE GOLDEN APPLE.

The tense moment when Paris must decide between Lovey Mars, Mrs. Juniper, and Minerva Oliver for the Golden Apple.

DANNY CARR APPEARS AS "STICK BOY" IN MRS. McTHING.

The amusing moment when Howay Larue replaced in the form of a "Stick Boy" by the witch Mrs. McThing acts the part of a prig upon greeting the Misses Lewis.

Howay: How do you do, Miss Evva—how lovely you look! Miss Grace—what a pretty hot! Miss Maude—you are younger every day. Well—aren't you going to kiss me?

JON DUNN-RANKIN BLESSES THE TROTH OF ANN DERFLINGER IN THE TEMPEST.

The solemn moment when Prospero gives his daughter Miranda to Ferdinand, son of the King of Naples.

BOB EGINTON RAPS THE GAVEL IN THE VIGIL.

The crucial moment arrives when the judge begins to charge the jury.

Judge: This Court instructs you to deliberate on the truth with relentless labor and deep reflection. For no matter how dutifully you consider nothing but the case before you, you cannot possibly avoid deciding by your verdict the great alternative of this trial.

DEAN DARRAH ASSUMES HIS SUNDAY MORNING POSITION IN CHAPEL.

The Knowles Memorial Chapel given to the college by Frances Knowles Warren is the scene of services on Sundays and holidays, all-college convocations, and the Bach festival. The Chapel, under the direction of Dean Theodore S. Darrah, is non-denominational. Students take part in these services as readers and members of the Chapel Choir.

Chapel Staff, composed of student committee chairmen, nine elected students, and two faculty members, is the Chapel Service Organization and yearly conducts a Chapel Chest Drive to collect money for needy children and the Dean's Fund.

Organ vespers by Catherine Crozier Gleason are held each Wednesday during the winter season, and the choir, under the direction of Robert Hufstader presents an annual vesper.

$2000 Collected by Chapel Chest Drive

This year's Chapel Chest Drive was a huge success with Ken Pabel and "Pogo" as co-chairmen as 77% of the student body gave the $2.00 donation. The final amount was well over the $2,000 goal with the following ten groups hitting the 100% mark in contributions: Alpha Omegas, Alpha Phis, Chi Os, Gamma Phis, Theta, Kappas, Pi Phis, Delta Chis, KAs, and Lambda Chis. The Chapel Staff will now distribute the money to the World Student Service Fund, the Foster Parents' Plan, the Dean's Fund, the Primrose and Forest Park Schools and other cases which need financial assistance.

The basketball season of 1955-56 was more a battle of school spirit than basketball, although the Tars fought hard and played promisingly while encountering the toughest schedule ever faced by any Rollins basketball team. The spirit that had been exhibited at the Orlando airport pep rally waned considerably after Rollins lost its first four outings to Bradley, Florida State, Florida, and Florida Southern, but then Rollins won a home game against Western Carolina and basketball spirit took a new rise. It was a short lived rise though as the Big Blue lost their next four games. After this series of defeats Old Mister Spirit played the Phoenix no more and Rollins ended the season with a 4-20 win and loss record.

Despite this demoralizing season, Rollins managed to capture three high honors: Chick Bezemer, Rollins' sophomore center-forward, gained berths on the Florida All-State team, the F.I.B.C. team, and the All-Opponent team of Georgia State Teachers College. Next season Bezemer will wield a big stick in Rollins' fight for a place in the basketball sun.

State Title to Varsity and J. V.

Coach Bradley started this season with a weakened varsity and the most powerful J.V. crew ever seen on Lake Maitland.

After the opening loss to Wisconsin the varsity travelled to Lakeland for a triangle race in opposition with Florida Southern College and Tampa University. Losing both these races was indicative that changes must be made, and Doc Bradley began playing "musical chairs" shifting combinations several times to gain a strong middle in the shell. The results of this strategem were evident as Rollins raced to a two length victory over La Salle in their next outing.

The following four races were easy glides to victory over Amherst, American International, Tampa, and Florida Southern, revenging an earlier defeat at the latter's hands. The final test before the big Dad Vail Regatta at Philadelphia was the State Championship race against Southern and Tampa. In near ninety degree heat Tampa spurted ahead at the start to take the lead on Rollins by a seat. A little before the half, Rollins was still a seat behind, but increasing the stroke from thirty to thirty-four for thirty strokes Rollins forged ahead and remained there to win by two lengths.

The Dad Vail Regatta was the same old story for Rollins, a second place finish, this time to La Salle's highly rated small college crew. The La Salle Philadelphians pulled to a half-length lead to finish in 6:59.3 for the Henley distance of a mile and five-sixteenths after finishing second to Rollins in a preliminary heat. The half length margin of defeat was considerably more than last year's six inch loss to Dartmouth.

The varsity completed the season with six wins, two seconds, and one loss, recording a creditable year's racing, but the bright spot of the season proved to be the J.V. shell.

Competing in eight races, the J.V. won them all, garnering the State Championship and a first place finish at the Dad Vail Regatta which won for Rollins the new Rusty Callow Trophy named for the present Navy Coach. Rollins finished a length ahead in the time of 7:23.5

Netters Record Winning Season

This season the Rollins tennis aggregation came off the plague of disaster predictions to compile a 10-5 won and lost record including decisions over Indiana, Big Ten co-champion last year, and Princeton, former Ivy League champions.

After losing their first match to a highly touted Presbyterian team, the Rollins netters went on to win seven of their next eight contests. The lone loss during this time was to the University of Miami, undoubtedly the number one team in the nation.

Young tennis coach Norm Copeland started his first season at Rollins with only four fully experienced players, Garcia, Longshore, Filosof, and Antonetti; it was the acquisition of Ben Sobieraj, Navy veteran and ultimate number one player, that assured Rollins of a winning season. The new combination of Copeland and Sobieraj will help considerably in Rollins future bids for clay court acclaim.

Other players who participated in the matches included Behrmann, Bell, Foster, Lubetkin, Sprayregen, and Kimball.

A freshman-studded Rollins golf team took to the links this season to register a 7-W, 7-L, overall record, and a 5-W, 7-L, intercollegiate total.

Dan Nyimicz, in his third year as Rollins golf coach, had only three returning lettermen from which to form a nucleus. The returnees were Frank Boynton, Ed Dinga, and Denny Folken. Both Boynton and Dinga will return next year, but Folken graduates after four fruitful years on the team.

The freshmen members of the team performed admirably throughout the season, and Rollins' progress on the links is assured of forward strides if their already good play improves through experience. The freshmen linksters included Bob Ross, Bob Craig, Jim Curti, and Ronny Terpak. Sophomore Dick Sucher returned this season to round out the squad.

NICK VANCHO WAITS FOR THROW IN ATTEMPT TO FORCE SLIDING OHIO STATE

JACK GAUDETTE, Rollins third sacker, completes crucial force play against University of Alabama.

Rollins started the season with its annual Baseball Week, this year extended to two weeks and eleven games. The accelerated pace of playing almost every day for two weeks made the lack of experienced pitching a painful reality, and this condition plagued the team throughout the remainder of the twenty-eight game schedule.

Baseball Week saw six invited out of state teams displaying their wares at Harper-Shepherd field, and Rollins emerged from this baseball extravaganza winning six and losing five contests. In state play Rollins lost only two games, one to Florida State University, and the other, an unexpected loss to Florida Southern. Rollins avenged both these losses in future meetings.

Highlights of the season included stopping the victory string of the University of Florida, this year's Southeastern Conference champions, at ten games, and the home run hitting of senior Jim Doran. Another highlight was the pitching of right-handed fast baller Hal Lawler who posted a 9-0 record while pitching against the toughest competition on the schedule. Lawler's pitching performance should gain him a spot on the All State team along with Nick Vancho, the leading Tars batsman. Jack Powell, slender left hander, proved to be a pleasant surprise as he notched a 4-1 record to assist Rollins to the state title. Harry Bennett, the Tar's third starting pitcher, ended the season with a 5-4 record.

Only two seniors were billeted on this season's starting nine; shortstop Nick Vancho and left fielder Jim Doran. The remainder of the team was composed mostly of sophomores and freshmen. With these holdovers, the acquisition of another starting pitcher should put Rollins in contention for national recognition.

Intramural Sports Busy Rollins Women

The girls sports world opened this year in Rec Hall with the usual amount of enthusiasm over intramural basketball. Blowing the first whistles were Sara Jane Dorsey and Jan Patton who head the Physical Education department. The teams rallied and found good competition against both freshmen and Theta teams.

Between rain storms the girls competed for the intramural baseball trophy. Memorable was the first game of the season between Alpha Phi and Theta. The tennis trophy was also captured in the winter term. Leigh Hay and Anita Wadsworth were outstanding as they battled for their group across the net.

Spring term brought a bevy of intramural sports for the girls. Volleyball topped the ladder while swimming and archery followed. Marlene Stewart upheld her outstanding record on the links, while swimming to victory were Dyan Wilson, Betty Brook, and Susu Dunn. A final totaling of points for the year brought the Thetas victoriously into first place for the O'Brien trophy.

This year, for the first time, Rollins intramural All-Stars were selected and actually played on an intercollegiate intramural basis. The Stetson All-Star aggregation provided the competition in basketball and the yet to be played softball contest.

This season's basketball encounter with Stetson found the Rollins All-Stars winning 92-67. Stetson travelled to Rollins for this initial contest, and Rollins will return the compliment by journeying to Stetson for the All-Star softball game.

The starting All-Star five consisted of Swanson, Dinga, Bilensky, Johnston, and Gaudette. Bilensky was high man for the evening throwing 18 points through the hoop; Swanson, team captain, and Gaudette shared second high scoring honors with 16.
